PORSCHE

RISTORANTE ROCCO'S PIZZERIA

A LITTLE HISTORY...

In 1922, Giovanni and Virginia Biale left the town of Savona in Genoa, Italy with their three young sons, Giacomo, Mario and Rudolfo to make a new life in America. With help from a cousin, they made their way to San Francisco and settled in the Italian section of Potrero Hill. Less than a year later, my grandfather, Giovanni, opened "Biale's Meat Market" on Connecticut St. To this day "Biale" is still tiled in the entryway of the building.

Giacomo "Jack", my uncle, stayed in the butcher business while Mario, my father, and Rudy went into the bar and restaurant business in San Francisco, Phoenix and Honolulu. Rudy owned and operated two "Rudy's Italian Restaurants" in Waikiki for 25 years.

I worked at Rudy's for 3 years with my brother Anthony. It was there I learned the importance of being a hands-on owner. People came from all over the world to visit "Rudy's", enjoying the food, the wine and the gracious host.

In the fall of 1999, I opened Rocco's Ristorante & Pizzeria. I have tried to maintain that same warm and inviting feeling my father and uncle provided for so many years. My family hopes you enjoy your visit and will come see us again!

Rocco Biale, your host

The Maritime Blue RS (a work in progress) pt.2

by Warren Gardner Jr.

Cargasm; I was having one. That's what you call one of those exquisite automotive moments in life when you have to pinch yourself to confirm that you're not dreaming. This was because Chick, my Porsche salesman in Arlington, Virginia, had just wrecked my workday concentration with giddy news from Porsche North America (PCNA). It was early 1992 and the awaited confirmation of my tourist delivery white RS America had just come thru. The car would be ready for pickup in Stuttgart mid June; a date that coincided with the group tourist delivery program Porsche AG normally held in June.

All well and good, but the real bombshell had yet to hit! Chick mumbled something about PCNA having just announced their decision to extend the production run of the "limited production" RS America into the fall, resuming production after the factory's August vacation.

Droning on, he mentioned these units would still be 1993 model year cars, of course, but now would have price increases tacked on commensurate with other fall increases on 1993 models. Then Chick's voice rose perceptibly as I heard "Oh, by the way, PCNA is going to offer paint-to-sample for the RS America, starting in September." Bingo!!

Uh-oh. Problem here. On the one hand I had a confirmed delivery date on a rare white RS America, but on the other hand I just learned that PCNA could make a dream fulfilling maritime blue RS, which they had outright refused to do earlier. And to add further insult to the $2,400 pain of paint-to-sample, the upcoming model year would carry about an $800 model year markup. Hmmmm. Now this didn't seem quite fair. Here's PCNA making me wait for a color (maritime blue, remember?) which was a standard color in Europe, making me pay for paint-to-sample when it's no additional cost in Europe, and making me pay more for the next model year when they could have said yes to paint-to-sample earlier.

Pushing my PCNA peevishness off on Chick,(who, incidentally, was truly the longest selling Porsche salesman in North America,) he suggested "Why don't you write them a letter?"

Now here was a novel thought. "Write Porsche North America a letter telling them what I want; you mean I can do that?" "Sure", he says. Well, Chick knew the ropes. He's the guy that got Porsche AG to build a sunroof into his special order Club Sport Carrera; the only Club Sport with that non-available feature in the world. (FYI – Remarkably, this erstwhile East Coast car is currently owned by a Diablo Region member, but that's another story!)

As quick as you can say Stuttgart (or Uusikaupunki for Boxster bretheren), I got the name of a PCNA Executive and fired off a letter extolling the virtues of being fair to a longstanding PCA member and multiple Porsche owner.

Mustering my years of experience with bureaucratic in-fighting, I pitched my request for a release from my white RS commitment, a price concession on my maritime blue RS, and retention of my position in the line of orders to build the car. And the answer came back: YES, we are delighted to be able to do that! So, on the strength of a little letter, I came away with PCNA's commitment to honor building a car for delivery in September, but at the current June price, yet in glorious maritime blue. True, they nicked me for paint-to-sample, but you can't win them all!

(Stay tuned for the next installment as PCNA lobbies Porsche AG for a Euro brake option.)

FOR MORE RS AMERICA INFO:

Whether you already own an RS America or not, this site provides an opportunity to learn more about the history, development and peculiarities of the RSA on the What exactly is an RS America? page.

I am building a database of all RS Americas I can find and would appreciate any help with details on RSA's from either current owners or past owners. So, if you owned an RSA and can remember the Vin#, color and options please contact me.
